SHOPPING

The best shopping in Palma is around Avenue de Jaume III, leading to Plaza de Juan Carlos I, at the top of the picturesque promenade of Paseo del Borne, one of the most popular city centre spaces in town.

The boulevard was designed in the 19th century by Madrid architect Isidro González Velázquez, sharing certain characteristics with Paseo del Prado in the mainland capital. Here you will find names including Louis Vuitton, Mulberry, Carolina Herrera, Boss, Cartier, Loewe, Escada, Watches of Switzerland, and Rialto Living, while the nearby department store, El Corte Ingles, is the smaller one of two branches in Palma.

Less predictable are the old town's narrow, cobbled side streets, where you will stumble across one-off boutiques and independent stores.

Tip: If you are looking for something specific, just ask us, of course. And for your online orders, you can have deliveries (marked with the boat's name) made to our offices.
